The evolution of individual and societal behaviour is a reality; the bearings, consciousness and mentality in Morocco are changing alongside economic and political shifts. The many facets and implications of this transformation will be explored, in particular those in which women have played a dynamic role.

Concurrent with the exhibition, Berber Women of Morocco, this symposium has been organised by the National Library of the Kingdom of Morocco in partnership with the Fondation Jardin Majorelle. It is the fourth symposium of the Berber Museum of the Jardin Majorelle.
